The American College of Veterinary Internal Medicine (ACVIM) proudly announces the launch of a new Fellowship Program, a transformative initiative designed to advance veterinary expertise and foster collaborative excellence in the field of veterinary internal medicine.

ACVIM is committed to shaping the future of veterinary medicine. The ACVIM Fellowship Program fosters the professional development of an ACVIM Diplomate looking to achieve a level of expertise and mastery in a focused field or discipline. The Fellowship Program will enable ACVIM to approve programs from any private practice or academic institution, not individuals, that meet a set of established criteria. It will also allow special@@\IM#F.06DwsB@_F36gta6btimatlededuao f alof the

- 1. ACVIM Diplomates who complete a Fellowship Program will be set apart as experts in a specific area of study. Animal owners looking for specialized care will know that additional training criteria have been achieved, making the Fellow an expert in a more narrow field.
- 2. : By providing specific training programs unique to a specialized area of study, they will be considered prestigious in the profession.
